

Please do not enact any policy that would weaken Indiana's current "no-call" privacy law. The quality of life in our state has been improved dramatically since the law was passed. There is no need to allow a person to be solicited by telephone when he elects to not be so bothered. Thank you for the opportunity to share my view with you.

William Inlow